

What's Going to Sound Best to You?

HEARING ASSOCIATES

Zoning in on the right balance of price and performance has always been important when choosing a hearing instrument. Today, technology offers more good choices than ever. By making a clear diagnosis of your hearing loss, and listening closely to your expectations, we hope to help you find the best of all possible worlds.

Get a better sense of your options in hearing instruments.

HEARING ASSOCIATES

	Level 4	Level 3	Level 2	Level 1
Quiet home activities	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●
Conversations 1 on 1	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●
Television	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●
Quiet café	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●
Automatic telecoil/ ^{telephone connectivity}	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●
Small groups	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●
Small meetings	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●
Recorded music	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●
Quiet large restaurants	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●
Wireless connectivity	●●●●●	●●●●●	●●●●●
Outdoor	●●●●●	●●●●●
Large gathering	●●●●●	●●●●●
Place of worship	●●●●●	●●●●●
Sports events	●●●●●
Large parties	●●●●●
Busy restaurants	●●●●●
Convention halls	●●●●●
Shopping malls	●●●●●
Live music performances	●●●●●
Approximate cost for two hearing instruments	$6200-$7700	$5100-$6400	$3900-$5300	$2700-$3800	